

Dear FCC,
I am shocked and outraged to learn of Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This is clearly an "in-kind campaign contribution" to one candidate at taxpayers expense, which is certainly illegal. - It is also one more clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair should not be allowed to air this program without giving equal air-time to a program positive to Kerry.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.

Marina Bethlenfalvay